CINCINNATI, January 30, 2025 – Link2Gov, a wholly owned subsidiary of Worldpay®, has been selected by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as an authorized digital payments provider, extending the IRS' partnership with the payments technology provider. Individuals and businesses can now use Pay1040.com by Link2Gov to make digital federal income tax payments for the 2025 tax season using credit, debit and other digital payment methods. Link2Gov's highly secure digital payment options provide taxpayers more flexibility and choice in ways to pay.

"Citizens expect the same convenience from government agencies as they do in other areas of their lives, and this includes the ability to make easy and secure digital payments. Pay1040.com brings a modern and more frictionless experience to paying federal, state, and local taxes, which improves accessibility and ease of making payments," said Jason Pavona, general manager of North America at Worldpay. "As a partner to the IRS, we look forward to helping them deliver a best-in-class payments experience to the taxpaying public."

Link2Gov's Pay1040.com has been an authorized payer system for federal taxes for over 20 years and in 2024 processed millions of transactions for the IRS. With the integration of digital payments into government services, the IRS is improving service options while streamlining processes and making tax collection more convenient and efficient.

Link2Gov is part of Worldpay's vision to make highly secure, digital payments easier for federal, state and local government agencies, which can also enable greater participation in the tax system.
